Apply to attend the Professional Development in Outcomes Measurement short course in Perth

Have you ever needed to measure your organisation's tangible impact but didn't know where to start? You're not alone.

Aiming to create positive change for individuals and communities, social purpose organisations are facing increasing financial uncertainty and a competitive environment. Now is the time to build the capacity and capability of your organisation and staff to better measure, understand, and report the difference you're making.

That's why we've joined forces with the Bankwest Foundation and the Centre for Social Impact at UWA to offer 20 not-for-profit professionals in Western Australia a chance to attend the Professional Development in Outcomes Measurement short course in Perth. Earlier this year, we granted 21 NFPs this opportunity and we're delighted to do so again.

Professional Development in Outcomes Measurement is an evidence-based course developed by CSI UWA, in partnership with the Bankwest Foundation, which engages participants in an interactive learning environment where they can develop a better understanding of outcomes measurement and how to implement it in their organisation.
